

Mobile Device Management Enrollment Guide – Android

This is the procedure for enrolling Android devices to Intune. If your device is already enrolled in another mobile device management system (such as MobileIron, MaaS365, Jamf), you should de-provision it first.

Android Enrollment Intune
First you must download Intune Company portal from Google Play Store.            When installed start the company portal app and start the sign-in process

Approve the sign-in request. MFA is enforced	 The screenshot shows a mobile interface for approving a sign-in request. At the top, there's a status bar with 'Emergency calls only', signal strength, 42% battery, and time '10:39'. Below is a blue header 'Company Portal'. The main content area has a blurred background with the text 'Approve sign-in request' in bold. Below this, there are some blurred details and a link 'Having trouble? Sign in another way'. At the bottom, there are links for '©2019 Microsoft', 'Terms of use', and 'Privacy &amp; cookies'. The Android navigation bar is visible at the very bottom.
